

Script for the 1-minute interview

Before you start editing:

- Have 30 minutes of sound
- Have at least 5 good graphics

Now, Use I-Movie HD

- Figure out some way to get the audio into I-tunes
- and the still pictures into I-Photo. That's the easiest way to control them.

Opening 10 seconds should have a still picture for the graphic, and a really good introductory audio clip that sets up your story.

Then, 10 seconds with just the name, white on a black background. Use a simple title without any fancy effects.

Dissolve to the next graphic, and start telling the story.

Use short dissolves for transitions between each of the graphics.

Final product should be between 1 and 2 minutes in length, and give a complete and interesting sketch of the person you are profiling.

We should be fascinated, but maybe we want to learn more.